

SMF Modifications Terms of Service

This modification is written for use within a Simple Machines Forum (SMF) by members of the SMF community. If you do not agree to these terms, you may not download or use this modification.

Unless you have written permission from the mod developer the code and files created for this modification are to only be used as part of a SMF installation.

If you plan on releasing any changes made to this modification you must first get approval from the mod developer. If you are unable to contact the mod developer then the SMF Mod Team will act on their behalf. If permission is obtained to release the modification proper credits must be given to the original mod developer.

These terms of service are to protect the mod developer's hard work. Their blood, sweat and tears. Any violations of these agreements should be submitted to the mod developer and SMF Mod Team for corrective action.

These modifications are not covered by the SMF license. They are covered by the mod developer's intellectual property rights.

If you have any further questions concerning this TOS, please feel free to contact a member of the SMF Mod Team.

Thank You,
The SMF Mod Team
